

Transportation Planning Symposium - November 13-16, 2007

Program Highlights

- Featured Speakers
- What You Need to Know
- General Activities

Partners

What is Symposium?

The Transportation Planning Symposium is an annual event that is intended to broaden the attendees' knowledge base by presenting success stories, demonstrating changing technologies, and showcasing how planning and project delivery promote greater transportation system efficiency.

The Transportation Planning Symposium will feature:

- half-day workshops
- two full days of concurrent sessions
- inspiring stories of successful transportation solutions
- interactive training tracks
- a Geographic Information Systems (GIS) clinic
- peer to peer networking, and
- insight from national and regional experts

This year's focus is on tools and practices that promote effective transportation planning as a key component in delivering the right projects at the right place and time and to address the growing demands for transportation of all kinds.

Symposium Folio (pdf 277 kb)

Who Should Attend?

WSDOT personnel, organizational representatives from Metropolitan Planning Organizations and Regional Transportation Planning Organizations, Tribes, local, state, and federal government representatives, as well as college students (enrolled in transportation relevant programs).

Where is the Symposium Being Held?

Spokane, Washington
Red Lion Hotel at the Park
W. 303 North River Drive
Spokane, WA 99201
Tel: (509) 326-8000

When is the Symposium?

November 13-16, 2007

Visit
Spokane